Thanks for your email and information which is very helpful. I'm not from the area and was unaware of the history and background to the properties or the recent works that have been carried out. I love period properties and sometimes despair at the tasteless and inappropriate modifications that are often carried out and fail to maintain the integrity of the building. I haven't actually been to view any at New Bolsover yet due to the Covid restrictions but when looking at the agent's details, thought what a pretty row of lovely cottages these are. I have since watched a number of online videos on the improvements. May I congratulate you and your team on an amazing project of restoration.
